

Odin

"I am grateful to humans for saving me from a very tough life out on the street. I couldn't survive it and knowing that was very scary. I lost my eye as a result of the rough life I had. I am so grateful for the warmth of living indoors and the love of my cat friends. I love looking at the outdoors from the inside of the glass. This is where I was meant to be. I am sure of that. I don't have to fight to survive anymore. I am blessed. I just want to say that there are other cats out there on the street who are as terrified and hungry as I once was. I think of them sometimes and hope that they too found safety. It's a hard life when there is no one to care or help and no place to go. I am one of the lucky ones. But I will never forget where I came from. Please help the ones who desperately need to find safety too. I thank you for that consideration."
